

ASQRS to offer Seminar on Geometric Dimensioning and Tolerancing

Tuesday and Wednesday, April 15 and 16, 2003
8:00 AM to 4:30 PM

Holiday Inn Rochester Airport, 911 Brooks Avenue

Fee: $540 – includes course material handouts, break refreshments and lunches

Registration Deadline: April 1, 2003

Registration: Complete the form (available on www.asqrs.org, the education page) and send it, with payment, to:
David Schreiber, 240 Maywood Drive, Rochester, NY 14618.

Who should attend: Anyone concerned with creating and understanding engineering drawings

Certification: Seminar completion qualifies for 2 Recertification Units

This seminar details geometric dimensioning and tolerancing in accordance with the ASME Y14.5M Standard. Participants will learn the pitfalls of traditional tolerancing and each of the geometric controls that comprise ASME Y14.5 – 1994.

Seminar topics are:

Inspection Methods	Orientation Tolerancing
Form Tolerances	Position Tolerancing
Datums	Six Sigma Tolerancing
Profile	Advanced Concepts
Runout	Tolerance Analysis of Your Designs
Advanced Gaging and Inspection Techniques
Application of Geometric Tolerancing to Your Production Process

The instructor is Donald E. Day, president of Tec-Ease Inc. Don is Professor Emeritus of Engineering Technologies at Monroe Community College, where he taught for 20 years. He serves on four National Standards committees (Y14, Y14.5M, Y14.5.2 and Y14.8). A successful designer, engineer, consultant and trainer, he is a nationally respected authority on GD&T, and has developed GD&T-related training for General Motors. His mastery and entertaining presentation of the seminar material maintains the interest of seminar participants.

Message from the chair

by BJ Coons

Have you ever found yourself wishing for more time? It's silly that we think we can actually add minutes or hours to the day. With our busy schedules we have difficulty completing everything we want to accomplish, so we make compromises and forgo doing something that seems important.

We treat time as if it were a precious commodity. We plan how to spend each moment and cram so much activity into a single day that we are often left with unfinished tasks. Time management has become a popular business tool to alleviate stress and anxiety caused by uncompleted activities.

For this New Year let's "take time" to a new level. When the day passes and we still have a list of unfinished items , let's keep in mind that there is always tomorrow because time is infinite.
HAPPY NEW YEAR!

Message from the editor

by Ann L. Wiley

Please refer to page three this month for a full description of eligibility for our section scholarships, and for information about the actual December dinner meeting program. We regret the misinformation in the December issue.

Happy new year. Please send ideas for the newsletter and articles to ann@annl Wiley.com.

Bylaws revision

by Ivan Enstrom for the Executive Committee

We are in the process of revising our Section Bylaws. The last revision was in 1993 and many changes in the governance of ASQ have occurred since then.

The revised Bylaws will have three significant changes from the current ones:

1. There will be a Section Chair-Elect, which will improve our leadership succession.
2. All standing committee and task group chairs will be members of the Executive Committee. This will put all people responsible for major Section activities on the Executive Committee.
3. We will be able to publish future slates of candidates for office, Bylaw amendments, and other important Section issues electronically, and to vote on them electronically as well. This will improve our communications with our membership.

There will be more information about the Bylaw revision in future issues of the Quality Audit.

Dinner meeting report

At the December 18 meeting, John Holtz addressed the topic “No, ISO 14000 + 9000 Does not = 23000.” Glenn Schnauber was the featured speaker for the ISO 9000 Task Group Meeting, and discussed current problems and concerns related to ISO or QS 9000 registrations, including the transition to ISO 9000-2000.

Executive committee report

The Executive Committee met on December 17 to review the month’s business and plans for the coming month. All members are welcome to attend Executive Committee meetings. Please contact the Chair, BJ Coons, BJ53@rochester.rr.com.

Education update

The education committee is seeking instructors for all the courses we offer. You will find a complete list in the call for instructors on the education page of our web site at www.asqrs.org.

Minimum requirements for instructors are ASQ Certification in the specific subject area or other certifications generally considered more advanced in Body of Knowledge complexity. You will find examples and details in the call for instructors on our web site.

The Rochester Section provides competitive compensation and dates and times for offerings are flexible.

The education committee is also seeking new members. If you would like to serve, please contact Rich Henderson, Education chair, rchender3@ocdus.jnj.com or 585-425-7302 (home).

For the schedule of certification exams and details of courses and seminars as they are scheduled, visit www.asqrs.org or contact Rich Henderson for additional information.

ASQRS Quality conference update

The Conference program and registration materials will be in the mail in January. The Conference committee has been hard at work to ensure the day will be beneficial and enjoyable for all. The section appreciates the work of the committee. The members are:

Kim Ludwig, Chair
Carol Porteous, Vice Chair
Kathy Bannon and Deb Lydick, Advisors and publicity
Rich Salter, Registration Chair
Deltris Dunn, Registration
Carmen Longobardi, Facilities Chair
Bill Jackson, Exhibitors Chair
Dave Auda and Louise Voelkel, Speakers Co-Chairs
Catherine Lee, Transactions Chair
Dermot Healy, Hosts Chair

Membership report

by Bob Stein, Membership chair

Currently the Rochester section has 782 members. Please welcome our new members, who joined in November.

Gustavo Miguel Bellomo
